Helping to promote your products and services to design and construction professionals - 24/7/365!

A variety of advertising/content packages to meet your marketing goals

With more than 1.51 million visits in 2024, 90% organic traffic and 80% of visits from the U.S. and Canada, DesignandBuildwithMetal.com is a great fit for your 2025 marketing plans.

DesignandBuildwithMetal.com’s content is devoted exclusively to metal roofing, metal walls, metal buildings and related products – making it a popular online destination for contractors, design professionals, and others who are seeking information. The curated content includes 2,700+ project case studies, thousands of news postings, featured articles, columns/blogs, product listings and an extensive supplier directory – all related to the metal construction industry.

Your ads and editorial content (all linked to your website) are strategically positioned on our site to be in front of visitors who are searching for information about your specific products and services. We handle all of the uploading.

In addition, our Weekly eMail Newsletter supports your website by delivering over 40,000 architects (40%), contractors (40%), manufacturers/suppliers (15%), plus building owners, homeowners, code officials, students, educators & developers (5%).

We are honored to have become a trusted source for metal construction product info since 2007. As you review this media kit, please keep in mind:

- There are 3 high-value advertising packages – See Page 3 for prices and views.
- We cover everyone – please be sure we’re on your company’s PR list.
- Advertiser content receives preferred treatment on our site, in the weekly newsletter and via posts on our social media accounts.
